ALLAS, Tex., March 21 .- Now that the Giants have played a couple of games with the Red Sox it is possible to get a better idea of th econdition of the players and the general status of the club than hitting fully as well as could be expected. Their fielding has been of the highest order. The pitching has been good in a general way. Yesterday Nehf and Hubbell worked well, and thelay Toney went along strongly until Hooper hit him for a home run over the short right field fence and put men for novelties, the statement that to Red Sox in front. Toney's slow ball is working to perfection and it puglism. The heavyweight boxing cham. Abe Mitchell will not appear in America had the Red Sox altogether buffled. Jess Barnes, who took Toney's place, pion of Europe not only is a fine, interthis coming season, and the news from not himself into a hole in every inning primarily because he has not yet ligent looking chap but he has the man the Hub that the gambling element of gained his control. He is coming along rather slowly in that feature, but full in carriage genial smilling in that district have turned their attention he has a world of stuff and considerable speed.

The illness of Ross Young hits the Giants in strength and probably in morale too, but the club is fortunate in having so capable a substitute as of the year letters from tournament Arnold Statz, whose fielding this afternoon was sensational. Particularly close attention is being paid to Larry Doyle, who, of course is the "if" in dom found in combination, and if such quests that advice be given for the 1920 the New York infield. In the games yesterday and to-day Doyle played schedules. It is no easy condition to his position without a flaw, and he stung the ball hard too. If Larry can face since most of the freek events have continue at the gait which he struck in the two games with Boston he will do.
